WELF KNOWN CHIROPRACTIC VICTIM OF GASTRITIS.

News of the death of Dr. John-M News of the death of Dr. John-M. Keldsen at his home in Cheboygan was received by Grayling friends Tuesday morning. He died at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, the cause of death being given out as gastritis—He-was 52 years old.

Dr. Keldsen was a chiropractor with offices in Grayling and Cheboygan, his residence being in the latter city. He was born in Denmark com-city. He was born in Denmark, com efty. He was born in Denmark, coming to this country about 30 years ago, locating in Alpena. Ten years ago he and his wife, who also was a practitioner in the same science, opened offices in Cheboygan, the firm name being Keldsen & Keldsen. About three years ago they opened a branch office in Grayling where Mr. Keldsen built up a good patronage, with patients in Roscommon also. He took active interest in Grayling He took active interest in Grayling affairs and made many warm friends among our citizens. He was the kind ly sympathetic, and liked worth-while things and had many high ideals in life. He will be missed here by his many friends and patrons. He left his offices in this city. included in her repertoire.

Of Scotch-Irish parentage, Miss MacDonald is by nature gifted with the power of story-telling and minicry, while years of study have assisted greatly in perfecting this inborn talent.

Miss MacDonald devotes a share of House Committeeher program to numbers that appeal especially to children, but which are equally well liked by older peo-ple. A middle-Western report re-cently stated: "Miss MacDonald's readings are sufficiently varied to meet the demands of everyone. Her technique is such as to win the appro-val of the most exacting critic."

Miss Jean MacDonald brings to the Jeeum platform a wealth of whole some fun and good-natured humor in stories and dialect readings. Undoubtedly her Scotch-Irish-ancestry is a great aid to her in her Scotch and Irish dialect stories. Her tales of the Southland, the West and the North are equally as effective and true to life. Not all of her art as a story teller came -naturally to Miss MacDonald. She improved her inherent talent by studying with Owen A. Smiley in To-

The campaign to reduce the number of grade crossing fatalities is stimulated by the fact that in 1924, it is estimated that not less than 2500 persons, or more than 200 a month, will lose their lives at railroad crossings due almost entirely to automobile accidents while approximately 500 a month. Another reason for conducting an intensive campaign is the fact that during the present year of 1924 it is estimated that there will be about fifteen million automoization of a Boy Scout troop are re-biles in use, an increase of approxi-

FARM CO-OPERATIVE SELLING

By GLENN G. HAYES

Women Are Organizing in the Egg Business.

ALL the chickens raised in the United States last year were lined up tail to tail in one continuous row they would extend around the world If all the eggs laid by this great American flock were loaded into cars they would extend from Boston to Chicago, 163,530 cars in all.

in 1923 there were 543,000,000 chickens raised in American poultry yards. Their farm value totaled $354. The total value of poultry products in the United States in 1922 was $884,000,000, which exceeds by $20,000,000 the total value of the 1922 wheat crop. And this report doesn't include chickens and eggs produced on town and city lots, with the exception of a few large commercial flocks. It is safe to say that the poultry industry is a hillion-dollar business. Its owners are the wives of American Ninety per cent of the American poultry products originates on farms which are not devoted to poultry as a specialty.

When Aaron Sapiro came over the border of California and began preach ing the doctrine of co-operation, he did his talking to the men. And when they tried co-operative marketing they tried it on wheat and cotton, to-bacco, dalry products—the crops they considered important. Of course there were a few commercial poultrymen scattered in the East and in the West who were making co-operative egg marketing a success, but that was a different situation; commercial poultrymen were concentrated in certain output was large enough to be worth considering. How Women Managed.

What interests the farmer interests the farmer's wife. Naturally enough she was interested in co-operative marketing. She watched the outcome of local ventures in co-operative live stock shipping in co-operative grain elevators. Enormous losses were being avoided by orderly marketing. It worked for every other commodity-why not poultry? There was money in the hen but not as much as there should be. By poor marketing methods the women had been cheating themselves out of half of their poultry dollar.

For fifty years the farmer's wife has bartered her eggs, a few dozen at a time, at the crossroads grocery. She what the merchant was to give, not knowing the true value of what she traded nor the value of what she received in exchange. That's the farm side of the story. What did the rossronds grocer do with the eggs?

This is where the city dealer stepped He saw a chance for a fortune in the egg industry; so did the big pack-ing concerns of the Middle West. These dealers and packers sent out buyers to the little rowns to buy up the eggs during the surplus produc tion season. They bought these eggs ungraded, uncandled, big and little, dirty and clean-all mixed together as the housewife bad brought They bought them them into town. chenp. In the first place the grocer paid as little as he could and he was glad to sell them for only a few cents profit. Eggs don't mean money to the grocer; they are simply a necessary nuisance of exchange.

The dealers shipped the eggs into the packing houses. They were sorted as to size and color and they were graded and candled. Part of them were sold immediately to the city con-sumers at special prices as strictly fresh eggs. The remainder were processed or packed in cold storage to await the winter scarcity, when they were sold at a bandsome profit. So the egg business continued year after year until in 1922 the egg and poultry divisions of the packing business were house in their markets. Now they are going to have their own sales department and establish their own machine. 'This marks woman's first venture into the economic field of farm they can treble their profits as poultrywomen and at the same time sell carefully graded, standardized, guar anteed eggs at a saving of a nickel to a dime per dozen to the con-sumer. The American Farm Bureau federation was asked to help. The federation responded by calling a, national egg-marketing conference in Chicago early last spring. Seventeen states were represented and a large and disinfected.

The danger that cows from a clean herd will be infected at fairs, stock shows and sales is also said to be great. The cattlemen at the New York State, Agricultural College at Ithaca go so far as to say that the farmer with the clean herd should refuse to exhibit his stock unless he is quite sure that the regulations permit-ting only the entry of tuberculin-tested stock are stricly enforced.

The pasture offers another source of infection. Detroit, Michigan. — "My troubles were severe pains in my back and terrible bearing-down pains in my right side, also headaches and seeplean nights. I first began having iroubles when I was lit, and they have increased as I grew older. A little booklet was left at my door, and I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women and decided to try it. After the first week I could go to sleep every night and I stopped having that nervous feeling and got a better appetite. The doctor had always said that an operation was the only thing that would help me, but I never had any faith in an operation. Since the Vegetable Compound has started helping me I do not suffer the severe pains, feel stronger, and am able to do my own work. I am more than glad to tell my friends that it helps where other medicines have failed,"—Mrs. Gus Vogel, 6608 Pelouze Street, Detroit, Michigan.

French Writer Believed Napoleon Ended Warfare

The prophesies of Joseph de Maistre are often cited as forecasts which have not "made good," yet worthier "prophets" have gone astray, as witness the following curious passage from a chap er in Chateaubriand's "Memoirs de Outre-Tombe":

"Napoleon has closed the era of the past. He has made war too great to beguile the human species in the future. He has slammed upon his heels the portals of the temple of Janus and against them he has piled mountains of corpses so that never may they be pened again." /

If the dead can see what is going on here on earth, it is not without spite that Chateaubriand will have to admit, with the evidence of the World war, that he would have been better advised not to have played the prophet. Le Petit Parisien of

PLEBISCITE CALLED FOR APRIL

All Branches of Government Favor New Regime-M. Raktivan New, National Assembly Head.

Athens—The last chance of King George to remount the throne of Greece has gone glimmering.

At a cabinet meeting Premier Veni zelos decided, with the unanimous support of his ministers, to advocate the establishment of a republic in a min isterial declaration before the as sembly, and thus he ended the Glucks bourg regime in Greece.

"Greece no longer has any need for this useless regime which has only brought evil to the country," reads the opening line of the minis terial declaration.

If M. Venizelos lives until the plebiscite in April, his gower to estab-lish a republic (the real objective of his return) is not seriously questioned He has absolute control of the army, navy and other branches of the government, all of which are working for the republic. He has the entire support of 250,000 refugee voters out of a total electorate of 900,000. He has complete control of the na tional assembly, which is elected by 70 or 75 per cent of the voters. And for a goodly majority of the Greek people he is the saviour of the coun-The government already is beginning to consider whether Greece should adopt an American or French model of a republic In the declaration, M. Venizelos will also urge the establishment of a national senate, which Greece does

In All the World No Car Like This

The ideal combination of roomy comfort and convenient size—sturdy construction—wonderful power—amazing performance—Moderately Priced

THE New Jewett Six is the final I type of car for the average motorist. Most people want a car of roomy comfort for their average load-of convenient size that lightens the driver's task in traffic-a car so sturdy repair bills are rareand powered to give satisfying performance—big six performance.

Roomy Comfort

FRONT SEAT			REAR SEAT
Leg room		Width	Leg room Wide
Brougham	40	Two-18%	44 -	46%
Sedan .	38	46	46	46%
Touring	42	. 44	-46	461/4
Roadster	41	46

Few cars have more body room than Jewett-and those are far higher priced. Jewett's rear seat is comfortable for three. Many owners carry six - with three in front.

Traffic Advantages

The New Jewett Six manipulates ably in traffic. Turns around in a 42-foot street; parks in a 161/2-foot space at the curb; easily enters your garage from a 14-foot alley or driveway. Think of the advantages of a car that handles so conveniently and still has the ample passenger room you'll find in all Jewetts.

Rare Sturdiness

Jewett has a 6-inch-deep frame, extra cross-braced and weighing 184 lbs.—a superb foundation for long life. Paige-Timken axles, Allsteel universal joints, with sealedin Iubrication. Jewett weighs 2805 lbs. - far more than "light" sixes.

Big Six Power

You are amazed when you lift Jewett's hood. Instead of an ordinary size motor, Jewett's motor nearly fills the hood! It's a SIX—full 50 horsepower. High-pressure oiled, like the Paige and other highest quality cars. Jewett's cylinders are 31/4 x 5 inches-249 cubic inches piston displacement-20% to 40% more power than "light" sixes.

Thrilling Performance

There's a thrill in the New Jewett's performance. Passes most any car on any hill. Like the strong man handling the weight, compared with the weaker - Jewett's powerful 6cylinder motor easily handles this sturdy 2805-lb. car. Jewett climbs hard hills slowly, in high, where other cars stall or shift. Jewett picks up on hills. Drive it from 2 to 60 miles an hour, or more, in high.

See the weak horse struggling to start a load - then watch the strong horse walk easily away with it! Jewett's most power for weight accounts for its extraordinary of footedness. In get-away, Jewett's 50 horsepower gives you every advantage. Picks up from 5 to 25 miles an hour in 7 seconds in high.

All women like the New Jewett because it steers with finger-touch guidance. That's due to ball-bearing steering spindles. While driving let Jewett's clutch in quickly to prove its smoothness. Gear changing is effortless; rarely a "miss" or clash. Shift from high to second at 30 miles an hour.

In all the world no car like this. No other car offers you Jewett's combination of roomy conflort and convenient size, sturdy construction, wonderful power, amazing performance at Jewett's moderate price. We'll be glad to let you drive this car. Call us any time.

Frank Calkins of the Recreation club on the AuSable, broke up summer quarters and came to Grayling Saturday last where he will remain a few weeks before following the robins to the southern climes. Ocean Springs, Miss, will be his quarters until early spring when he will return again to his favorite spot on earth, the Recreation club. He says this has been a most wonderful fall at the club. To add to the interest of life at this beautiful place he has been busy constructing a new cottage for John M. Francis across the river from the club house, which he says, is now complate except for painting and varnishing. It is pathetic to learn that Mr. Francis, who was looking forward to many pleasant years at his new summer home, died at his home in Detroit January 8th from pneumonia.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S precon-I vention managers now profess to see his nomination on the first ballot. Admittedly his chances will be greatly enhanced if congress passes a tax re-vision bill not vastly different from that proposed by Secretary Mellon and yet satisfactory to the people at large. House Leader Longworth is working hard to bring this about, and there is lican majority and the insurgency in support of the Republican radicals for their own tax measure and thus to capture the credit. Modifica-tion of the discharge rule so that legisletten connet so easily he smothered cratic leaders announced they would now press tariff bills with a view to reducing duties on everyday articles of food and clothing. They believe they can muster enough votes to discharge the ways and means committee from consideration of bills of this character, which do not agree with the Re publican program. In the senate they think they may be able to pass such measures with the aid of the insurgent Republicans.

GENERAL DAWES, in formally accepting the chairmanship of the committee of experts to investigate Germany's capacity to pay, delivered a characteristic speech in which he bluntly denounced the politicians and "nationalistic demagogues" who increase disorder for their personal profit, and asserted the first thing to he done to avert the most colossal bankruptcy the world has is to stabilize currency and help Germany to recover its economic productivity. The committee has begun gathering the views of financial authorities, and has invited Herr Schacht, president of the reichsbank to tell what help had been offered in his recent visits to London, Zurich and Amsterdam, It is asserted that Dawes means to steer the investigation to ward methods of raising an immediate loan for Germany, probably not over $250,000,000, to stabilize the mark.

but she may learn."
—Merchant of Venice.

There has been much speculation as to the age at which people cease to be able to learn. There is, of not learn anything after they are twenty, and others can learn after they are a hundred. In general, too much stress is laid upon youth as a requisite for those who wish to study new subjects. It is common to find people who have, been unable to go straight from high school to college fearing that they will be handicapped in their studies by their age if they enter after they have been out of school for some years. Sugh, I think, is never true.

Languages have always been held to be a subject that should be studied during youth. The very young child is learning words all the time, and it makes little difference to him whether the word is Latin, English, French, Italian or Russian. It, therefore, seems probable that a very young child quickly than an adult can. It is much o be doubted, however, whether a sixteen-year-old boy can learn a new language any more quickly than a sixty-year-old man.

Benjamin Franklin began his study of languages after he had been for a long time the proprietor and editor of a newspaper, had published "Poor Philadelphia library, and had done enough other work to make the averhim to study anything new. He first mastered French, then Italian, then Spanish, and finally Latin.

Teachers are generally of the opinion that a child entering school at the age of eight reaches high school at the same age as a child of equal native ability who enters kindergarten at the age of three or four-an older child the younger child months to master. One of America's scholarly men was a coal miner, ignorant even-of his alphabet, at the age of nineteen; yet he had completed a college education and become superintendent of schools in a large city at the same age that most men reach such positions.

Older people who have difficulty in mastering new subjects are no more numerous than young people who have similar difficulty—the ease with which one learns a new subject has little to do with age; it is rather a matter of native ability and a competent teacher.

". " . those who do not think so deeply, and they were the greater number by a hundred to one." --- Ivanhoe

Of those who do not think so deenly there are two classes: those who can not think and those who do not want

Not everybody is able to think deeply. We do have mental limitations, though few of us ever study hard enough or think deeply enough to reach them. For some people, however, the mental limits are quickly reached. Such people are variously classified as morons, subnormals and hose who cannot "think so deepsy."

Those who do not want to think are of two classes; those who are lazy and dislike mental exertion, and those who are afraid to think.

Jonathan Swift expressed the opinion that if people did much thinking they must go mad; and all of us recognize the fact that there are certain eas that do not bear thinking about. Emerson warned of the risk attendant upon thinking when he wrote: ware when the great God lets loose a thinker on this planet. Then all things, are at risk. It is as when a configration has broken out in great city and no man knows what is safe or where it will end. There is not a piece of science but its flank may be turned tomorrow: there is not any literary reputation, not the so-called eternal names of fame, that may not be reviled and condemned. The very hopes of man, the thoughts of his heart, the religion of nations the men. ners and morals of mankind are all at the mercy of a new generalization."
And again: "What is the hardest task in the world? To think. I would put myself in the atfitude to look in the eye an abstract truth, and I cannot. I bleach and withdraw on the side and that. I seem to know what he meant, who said, 'No man can see God face to face and live."

Before a man camethink deenly with. out danger to his community it is necessary that he should be well in-Confucius is credited with the statement that "thought without learning is perilous," and there is no doubt that much of our present social and economic unrest is due to the thinking of men who were not suff-

MAY BE YOUNGEST MEMBER OF LEGION

Who is the youngest member of the American Legion? Just at this time, Jefferson post of the organization in Louisville, Ky., lays claim to that distinction, in announcing that F. Stroth Barton is a member of the post. Barton, was born April 3, 1902, and when the Marine corps issued a call for buglers in 1516, he attempted to enlist. He was unable to meet the requirements for age, though he passed all others successfully. Denied his parents' consent to enter service, as he was but fourteen at the time, he bided his time and enlisted in the

He was sent to Charleston, S. C., for training in naval aviation, from there to be sent to Hampton Roads. Va. Barton was discharged in 1919, and soon after "hooked up" with the Legion in Louisville.

The Economical Quality Car

Chevrolet prices are not the lowest on the market, yet Chevrolet economical transportation averages lowest in cost. This average cost considers the purchase price, interest on investment, depreciation and all operating and maintenance costs.

A detailed comparison with any other car in the low priced field will convince you that Chevrolet in the best buy because of its superior quality and because the purchase price includes full equipment.

More than a million Chevrolets are now in use.
Twelve huge plants are now building them at the rate of twenty-five hundred per working day. Nearly one-half million Chevrolets were bought in 1923—far exceeding in number the sales of any other quality car.

Thus, our statements have the strongest possible backing, namely, the faith and patronage of the American people who know automobiles and know practical values better than any other people on earth. Guess Again.

A farmer will not get very far in keeping cows if he lets them have only one drink a day of water in the vinter, and that icy cold. Fuel is cheap. Why not keep a tank heater roaring hot and the tank covered with a lid and little house to keep the heat in? Lots of men do it this way. Why not all? No one takes too long to fix it. Have to find the county clerk. Why-Let 'Em Shiver?

Some men seem to think that be-cause a cow is a cow she must stand shivering around a straw stack in the barn yard all day.

In the First Place. In the First Place.
In the first place, the straw stack has no business in the barn yard. It should be in the barp to be passed thru the mangers as feed and the stalls as bedding.

Then.

In the next place, it is a foolish and wastiful custom to turn cows out doors as much as we do in our hard winter climate. They should be watered more indoors; and, if turned out at all, why leave them out so long, yold, shivering, humped up, with the icy wind cutting the heart out of Real dairymen do not do so w. have passed out of the rough pio-neer and lumbering days, and should now take on habits and practices that are more advanced and nearer right. Turn to Page 33.

Turn to page 33 in King's Physics of Agriculture and you will find that it takes a pound of beef fat to evaporate a little over 16 pounds of water (rain that the animal might be out in); and a pound of milk out of a milking row to evaporate a pound of vertex of the bed by the country of the co water off her body Worse and Worse.

When the steer or milking cow is out in a snow it takes more beef fat and more milk than the above to dry the animal, because the animal must first furnish heat to melt the snow to water; then more heat to dry the water off.

Yes, Laugh It Off.

Yes, a man can make a sharp crack and laugh the whole thing off with the remark: "What's a steer's time worth?" "What's a cow's time worth? Next thing they will be advocating coal stoves and brussels car pets in barns. They are getting things down too damn fine"

Open Doors and Windows. Open doors and windows of your house on a bitter, windy day. You will have to keep the stove roaring at expense of a lot of extra fuel to exist. A cow, standing out, shivering in the whistling wind is in much the same fix. A vast amount of her bodily energy must go to keeping alive

Sharp Axes.

The man who chops sees to it that his axe is sharp and in good condition. The man who would make a satisfying income off his farm will do it by winter dairving with cows kept in high condition.

The Cost of a Car

is no measure of its value

These are the things to consider

HE cost of a car depends in large part on volume and efficiency. It is no criterion of value.

Studebaker builds 150,000 fine cars yearly. All of them are Sixes. The main costs are divided by that enormous output. Thus at prices of $975 and up we offer the utmost in quality. We offer maximum values.

Don't judge these cars by prices. Under other conditions they might cost twice as much, yet offer less than

Some major costs

Quality cars require costly facilities. Studebaker has $50,000,000 invested in modern plants and equipment. $8,000,000 in drop forge plants alone. $10,-000,000 in body plants, to carry out the Studebaker standards. There are 12,500 upto-date machines employed to build these cars. Some are enormously expensive.

Few outputs justify such facilities. Then parts must be bought out-side, and profits paid to coffers * *

Studebaker engineerjug costs $500,000 per year. That to us is $3:33 per car.

Our Department of Research and Experiment employs 125 skilled men. It makes 500,000 tests per year to maintain our standards Our Bureau of Methods and Standards fixes the requirements for every part and detail. 12,000 inspections are necessary for each car to insure against flaws and mistakes. We employ 1,000 men to make them.

Cars like the Studebakers cannot be built without such facilities, such research, such care. Yet enormous output alone makes them possible at Studebaker prices.

Open cars have real leather cushions. They cost, over imitation leather, about $25 per car.

No closed cars could be more luxurious. That lining of Chase Mohair is made from the soft fleece of Angora goats. A velour lining would save about two-thirds that cost-up to $100 per car.

Note how every detail denotes infinite care. That, as you know, is

> Note the completeness of our larger models. The nickel-plated bumpers, extra disc wheels with cord_tires, a steel trunk, a courtesy light. These are rare extras, even on the costliest cars.

Nothing is stinted

Compare part by part with any rival cars. Studebaker will show you some scores of advantages.

Then consider Studebaker history. For 72 years this name has stood for quality. When people rode in carriages, Studebaker built the best. Now those same traditions are applied to motor cars alone.

Consider Studebaker records. Mark how these cars in service have multiplied demand, until people last year paid $200,000,000 for Studebaker

Consider their service records. One Studebaker car, built in 1918, has run 475,000 miles. It is still in active service. It lately made a midwinter trip from Los Angeles to New York. That means 80 years of average service, of 6,000 miles per year. What more can you dream of in motor car than the Studebakers
